6. Linking, Framing and Crawling

- 6.1. The prior written consent of DReX is required before any hyperlink is created by any third-party. Permission, if granted, will be subject to the condition that the party linking to this Website alerts Users to the application of these terms and conditions and subject to any further conditions that DReX may deem appropriate and require at the time. Requests for such permission can be emailed to info@drex.co.za
- 6.2. Permission to link to this Website will be granted strictly without the assumption of any liability on the part of DReX. DReX reserves the right to withdraw permission granted to link to this Website at any time in its sole and undisputed discretion.
- 6.3. The prior written authority of DReX, together with any conditions it may impose, is required before this Website, any of its pages and/or any of the information contained on the Website is framed. Requests for authority can be emailed to info@drex.co.za
- 6.4. Save for the use of bona fide search engine and the search facility provided on the Website for Users, no person may use or attempt to use any technology or applications (including web crawlers or web spiders) to search or copy content from the Website for any purpose without the prior written consent of DReX. Any attempt to do so, whether successful or not, shall be deemed an offence as contemplated in Clause 7.

7. Security

- 7.1. Any person or third-party, who in any manner interferes with the data or information displayed on this Website in any way which results in it being modified, destroyed or otherwise rendered ineffective or inaccurate, acts contrary to the provisions of the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act 25 of 2002 and may be guilty of an offence.
- 7.2. Any person who in any manner interferes with any third-party's access to this Website or denies access by any other party to the Website, whether partial or absolute, may be guilty of an offence in terms of the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act 25 of 2002.
- 7.3. Any attempt to commit or aid and abet someone in the commission of the offences referred to in 7.1 and 7.2 may be guilty of an offence in terms of the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act 25 of 2002.
- 7.4. DReX reserves the right to cause the prosecution of any person who is guilty of an committing a breach of these Terms and Conditions as described above.
- 7.5. DReX reserves the right to institute appropriate action to obtain relief against the perpetrator of the actions contemplated in the Clauses above, with a view to recovering any damages that it may suffer and to protect the DReX Website against defacement, unauthorised amendment of content, and disruption of the use of the Website.
- 7.6. While DReX will take and institute appropriate security precautions to protect the Website against abuse by third parties, by accessing and browsing this Website the User accepts that no liability will lie against DReX for any damages caused to the User by the malicious interference with the operation of this Website, and/or any unauthorised destructive data or code that may be communicated to the Users computers or information systems as a result of the access and browsing of the Website.

8. Personal Information

8.1. The processing of all Personal Information by DReX is governed by the DReX Privacy Policy.

8.2. Any Personal Information which may be provided to DReX through this Website will be processed in accordance with the Protection of Personal Information Act 4 of 2013. Details of the policies relating to processing of Personal Information which may be collected through the interactive communications facilitated by this Website are contained in the DReX Privacy Policy.

9. Disclaimer and Indemnity

9.1. DReX expressly disclaims all liability for any direct, indirect or consequential loss or damage suffered by the User accessing and browsing the Website or the Users inability to access and browse this Website, or whether caused directly or indirectly by inaccuracies, defects, errors (whether typographical or otherwise), omissions, outdated information or for any other reason howsoever arising, even if such loss was reasonably foreseeable and DReX had been advised of the possibility of the loss occurring.

9.2. By the use of this Website, the User indemnifies and holds DReX, its Directors, employees, staff members, subcontractors, subsidiaries and affiliates harmless from any demand, action or application or other proceedings, including attorney's fees and related costs, made by any third party and arising out of or in connection with your use of or access, browsing or use of this Website.

10. Jurisdiction

These Terms and Conditions are governed by and construed in accordance with the law of the Republic of South Africa and the User and DReX both agree to submit any dispute arising out of the use of this Website to the exclusive jurisdiction of the appropriate jurisdiction of the Courts of the Republic of South Africa.

11. General

11.1. These Terms and Conditions record the entire agreement between the User and DReX in respect of access, browsing and use of the Website.

11.2. If any provision of these terms and conditions is found to be invalid by any court having competent jurisdiction, the invalidity of that provision will not affect the validity of the remaining provisions which will remain in full force and effect.

11.3. The omission by DReX to exercise any right under these Terms and Conditions will not constitute a waiver of any such right unless expressly recorded by DReX in writing.

11.4. Notwithstanding the fact that hyperlinks in these Terms and Conditions to certain documents should be deemed part of these terms and conditions in terms of section 11 of the Electronic Communications and Transactions Act 25 of 2002, the fact that some or all of the hyperlinks may be non-operational, will not play a role in determination of the validity and interpretation of these Terms and Conditions.
